

BRB OUT MAKING HISTORY

MAKING HISTORY

Join us in Brisbane in June for the biggest union events of the year: the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Unions for Yes Conference 19 June, and Making History – the 2023 Organising Conference 20-21 June.

We've just seen the introduction of the biggest changes to industrial law in a generation. Unions are doing amazing things – growing, running innovative campaigns, setting new benchmarks for working conditions and winning social change like FDV leave.

This is a conference about celebrating the history that we have made and sharing for the history that we are part of making right now.

- » The biggest face-to-face union conference event since 2017
- » Hundreds of delegates from across the country and across the movement
- » Over 60 workshops to choose from
- » Local and international speakers
- » Scheduled “huddles” for identified and occupational groups.

Don't miss out, register now:
ausunions.io/orgconf

Who should attend?

The Organising Conference is open to all union leaders, organisers, campaigners, industrial officers, communications staff, WHS specialists, member engagement and administrative staff and officials.

What can you expect?

Engaging plenaries and over 60 workshop sessions will challenge, educate and inspire our current generation of leaders, officials and staff to create a new wave of organising and growth, armed with a new toolkit and new laws. This conference will focus on building the skills and capacity that we need to leverage the new IR Laws to grow our movement and to win stronger, safer and more just workplaces for Australian workers.

Conference dinner

Conference dinner will be held at the conference venue on Tuesday 20 June.

Accommodation

You can book discount conference accommodation here:

<https://events.ozaccom.com.au/actu-2023/accommodation/Site/Register>

Early bird prices

Early bird pricing is available until 1 June, so ensure your union's delegation is registered soon to take advantage of early bird rates.

Premium Sponsor

 AustralianSuper

Sponsors

UNIONS FOR YES

ACTU Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Biennial Conference - Monday 19 June 2023. Brisbane Convention and Exhibition Centre - Meanjin - Brisbane.

Our movement has a vital role this year in the advancement of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples. Featuring plenaries and workshops, this conference will:

- » Give participants the skills to develop the structures in their own unions to have their voices heard on issues they care about.
- » Unions for Yes: Discuss, strategise and prepare participants to campaign for a Voice enshrined in the Constitution in the forthcoming referendum.
- » Hear stories and history from Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander unionists on their struggle and what it means for the future.
- » Feature commemoration of the 30th anniversary of the ACTU Partners for Justice conference - a major conference of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander unionists from all over Australia held in 1993 for the International Year for the World's Indigenous People.

This conference is open to all Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander union members at the nomination of their union.

Register now: ausunions.io/orgconf